Cox Business/Hospitality Network provide advanced cable television and Internet connectivity to Golden Nugget Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS – Cox Business / Hospitality Network, a full-service, facilities-based provider of advanced voice, video and data solutions as well as a leading source of in-room video and data technology services to the hotel-gaming industry, today announced the deployment of in-room, free-to-guest cable television in standard definition and high definition, video-on-demand services as well as wireless Internet connectivity to Rush Tower, a 25-story addition to the Golden Nugget Las Vegas.

Marilyn Burrows, senior vice president and general manager of Cox Communications-Las Vegas, notes, “The Golden Nugget has always been a premier downtown destination for visitors to our city and we’ve been proud to deploy our video and Internet services there. Now, with the addition of the elegant Rush Tower, it is with equal pride that we share in the growth of this storied Las Vegas property through the deployment of our advanced technologies.”

Cox Business / Hospitality Network is also preparing a rollout of its branded iGuestbook<sup>sm</sup> at the Golden Nugget. The iGuestbook<sup>sm</sup> application is an electronic and dynamic version of the static paper-and-ink guestbook that one finds on nightstands and desks in a hotel guest room. iGuestbook<sup>sm</sup> is a portal to hotel services and amenities that is viewed on the guestroom television set and controlled by the television remote. Guests navigate through various menus and learn more about hotel amenities, restaurants, entertainment, attractions, and more through graphics, photos and full-motion video via iGuestbook’s<sup>sm</sup> interactive controls.

“The Golden Nugget has had an excellent relationship with Cox Communications for many years,” said Jim Friesen, senior vice president of Golden Nugget hotel operations. “When we looked at adding our new Rush Tower, Cox was the only vender we considered and were confident they would step up to the plate and provide us with state of the art quality and innovative ideas to assist our guests with their every need. We are looking forward to rolling out the iGuestbook to even further enhance our hotel guest’s experience.”

In addition to concluding a four-year contract for the deployment of telecommunications services in the nearly 500 guest rooms and suites at the Rush Tower, the Golden Nugget and Cox Business / Hospitality Network signed a three-year contract renewal to provide similar services to the more than 1,900 existing rooms at the downtown resort property.
